NBCF Pink Products

We are proud to be a corporate partner with the National Breast Cancer Foundation. Over the course of our partnership with the NBCF, we've reached the tremendous milestone of donating $100 000 from the sales of our National Breast Cancer Awareness Pink product range.

This range was created exclusively to support this foundation, working closely with our suppliers to manufacture a range of our products in the particular shade of pink, and donating a percentage of retail price from every Pink product sold.

We are always looking to help our retailers participate, with initiatives like exclusive discounts on NBCF Pink product bundles. Keep an eye out for the NBCF logo throughout this catalogue to find products you can order, to help make a difference in the lives of millions of Australians in the fight against breast cancer.

おもてなし Omotenashi [O-mo-te-na-shi] is deep-rooted in Japanese culture, and means to wholeheartedly look after guests.

It is a selfless practice which centres around care for the guest, not the expectation of receiving something in return. Hospitality and care are provided from the heart, unhidden and unprotected, a deeply respected practice. These ceramics embody the three key principles of omotenashi: empathy, anticipation, and authenticity.

We hope that you embody these values when using these authentic, Japanese made ceramics; looking after your guests and yourself with care, the omotenashi way.

We're excited to offer a range of in-store support to give your customers a touch-point for Omotenashi and the concepts of traditional Japanese hospitality, made available to you when placing your order.

Minimum order terms and availability limitations apply.

Sake Sets

乾杯!"Kan-pai!" (Cheers!) - There isn't a more exciting word in an evening with friends!

Sharing sake ("Nihonshu" in Japan) is a beloved bonding experience to bring friends and guests together. Make sure that you each fill each others cups (Never your own), and to leave a little in the bottom when you're done - otherwise your friend will make sure to fill it for you again!

Ramen/Donburi bowls

These ramen bowls, produced in a traditional 19th Century design are sought after thanks to their beautiful shape and finishing. Few artisans still produce these beautiful, richly coloured patterns that requires expert finishing and a multi-stage process to create.

The "double happiness" mark 囍 emblazoned in many of the patterns on these bowls is said to bring good fortune to guests and their hosts on special occasions.

Etegami Flatware

Etegami - literally translating to "image-letter" is the pairing of calligraphy with bright, freshly coloured illustrations. The same techniques used for the traditional lettering is applied to the line-art of the drawings.

The craft was pioneered by calligraphers who became bored with the rigid rules of their craft, and began experimenting with bright colours and light-hearted subjects on postcard paper.

Etegami has since evolved from a plaything into its own renowned style.

Etegami Yasai Drawings of Vegetables

- ピーマン "Paprika" or Capsicum
- 赤かぶ "Akakabu" or Red Turnip
- ナス "Nasu" or Eggplant
- かぼちゃ "Kabocha" or Pumpkin
- だいこん "Daikon" or White Radish

These dishes are based on the year-round harvest, acting as a journey through the harvesting seasons, whether as multiple courses of one meal, or a shared experience for the whole table.

From the Paprika fresh out of the crisp Spring thaw, to Red Turnip as the weather warms in late in the season, to Summer's Eggplant, then Pumpkin starts to taper into the cooler autumn and finally White Radish as the last harvest of the season as the winter frost arrives.

Hana Tsudoï Flower Gathering

Hana Tsudoï bowls feature a traditional, delicate porcelain finish, but with a unique difference. Almost impossible to capture in a two-dimensional image, the final patterns are etched in the forming process at the earliest stages, giving the flowers a touchable effect, almost as if they were gathered and carefully pressed into the ceramic itself. The beautiful aizome blue colour catches the light as it wraps around the texture in their otherwise perfectly smooth surface.

Benefits of a Ceramic Blade

- Precision Cutting
Ultra-lightweight blade crafted in Japan
- Sharp
Stays sharper 10 times longer than steel
Lifetime free sharpening (conditions apply)
- Pure
No metal ions transferred to food
No risk of rust on the blade
Fruit & vegetables won't brown as quickly

An all-purpose knife for thin, clean cuts and light in the hand for those repetitive kitchen tasks, this Slicing Knife is between a paring knife and chef's knife. Home chefs may prefer it for its maneuverability.

Revolutionise food prep with a Ceramic Paring Knife. The perfect size to trim, slice and peel small produce such as fruit, garlic and herbs.

The Ceramic Utility Knife is the ultimate cutting tool for everyday kitchen prep that requires precise slicing of fruits, bread buns, vegetables and boneless meats.

Effortlessly slice through tender tomatoes and create wafer-thin slices with the Micro-serrated Utility Knife. Ideal for any fruit or vegetable that has a tough outer skin yet soft core to glide through food effortlessly.

A Nakiri knife is a traditional Japanese vegetable knife, recognisable by its rectangular blade. The entire flat edge of the blade strikes the cutting board at once, chopping vegetables and herbs in one move, reducing cutting fatigue.

The meaning of 'Santoku' explains what this knife is best used for: 'three virtues' or 'three uses' of chopping, dicing and mincing. This all-purpose Santoku Knife can handle all these jobs with ease. The knife is also particularly adept at creating very thin slices of foods, particularly useful for aesthetically pleasing vegetables and seafood.

Chefs must work with the best blades to allow for superior precision and skill. A Chef's Knife is the most used knife in the kitchen. The popular 18cm and 20cm lengths translate to faster, comfortable slicing in high-quantity tasks in the kitchen, like slicing, dicing and chopping.

Olive Wood Kitchen Knives

Olive trees are one of the oldest lineages in existence with trees growing up to a thousand years old. Incredibly durable and dense, this wood is known for its distinctive unique grain that lends extraordinary depth and richness. Carved from heartwood, obtained near to the pith of a stem or branch, it can be cream or honey coloured with darker brown or black contrasting streaks. Because of the natural beauty and uniqueness of the grain, no two handles are the same. A mediterranean classic for those who love this characterful wood.
